

Harmonization of Standards and Processes for Entry to the Surveying Profession
Progress Report - September 2007

Addendum Related to Curriculum Review

The curriculum review process began following the meeting of the harmonization task force in the Spring of 2007.

As a first step, the team was identified and is made up of:

- Jim Dobbin – representing CCLS and chair
- Sarah Cornett representing CCLS
- Larry Pals and Jack Larson representing CBEPS
- James Secord representing APBELS and the University of New Brunswick
- Graham Bowden representing Ontario
- Jacques Goudreault representing Quebec
- Mike Barry representing the University of Calgary
- Annick Jantom representing Laval
- Songnian Li representing Ryerson
- Jain-Gou Wong representing York, and
- Don Thomson representing BCIT

As a next step, I prepared a discussion paper setting out a couple of draft visions for how the process might work and the model for a new curriculum and circulated that paper to the group. I am waiting for feedback from the group before next steps.

Next steps will include a conference call, and then a face to face meeting to get down to the actual work. I expect that the face to face will be in the late fall.
